

Seed Paper - Paper that blooms into flowers

Making seed paper is a great way to learn about science and the cycles of nature.

Trees give us the paper we use every day.

You can give new life to paper products by turning them into beautiful sheets of homemade paper, embedded with flower and herb seeds.

Make cards, bookmarks, gift tags, and wrapping paper. To turn these papers in to flower, go outside and plant them — in pots or in your garden!

<http://climatekids.nasa.gov/seed-paper/>

