

Report on Seminar “Cleaner Production & Clean Technology”

Gujarat Cleaner Production Centre – ENVIS Centre organised a seminar on “Cleaner Production & Clean Technology” in association with the Association of Chemical Technologists (ACTI) at Hotel Four points Sheraton on 19th march 2016 from 10:30 am to 2:30 pm. Dr. Ashoka Ghosh and Mr. Rikeen Makwana participated the seminar.

At the Inaugural session, Welcome address was delivered by Mr Bharat Jain, member secretary GCPC and gave an overview of the seminar. Dignitaries present at the seminar were Shri Jignesh A. Vyas, President, ACTI, Shri Shankarbhai R Patel, Chairman, The Green Environment Services Co-Op, Soc. Ltd, also Ex. President of Gujarat Chamber of Commerce & Industries and Chairman of NEPL, Shri Kumar Rajnish, National Programme Coordinator, ENVIS Secretariat, MoEF & CC, GOI, Shri R. Parthasarathy IAS (Retired), Additional Chief Secretary, Forest & Environment Department, GOG.

All speakers gave their view on the importance of cleaner production and how ACTI and different organisations can contribute to improving the technology for the betterment of Industries as well as to the society. The vote of thanks was given by Shri Manoj Mehta, ACTI. In the Technical, Session presentations were given by GCPC, NIOH-ENVIS and GCPC-ENVIS.

Mr. Bharat Jain from GCPC presented the Concept of Cleaner Production Tools & Methodology. He explained how one can incorporate the concept of cleaner production on an individual level as well as for the industries. Ms Annie Josie from NIOH -ENVIS gave the presentation on hazardous effects of chemicals on workers. Also gave the information on the activity of NIOH-ENVIS, about publications, awareness programme, and updation of the websites. Mr. Punam Rathod from GCPC gave the presentation on achievements and dissemination of Data of GCPC-ENVIS.

Seminar ended with Question - Answer session. Students from different institutes raised some questions. Raping up of the seminar was done by Shri R. Parthasarathy giving his view on the seminar and sharing his experience with the students and other guests present at the seminar.

